Per 284779T11
Date 6/20/2016

Reference is made to your memorandum of January 22, 1974, captioned as above. Upon receipt of then Attorney General Richardson's memorandum dated October 1, 1973, captioned "Requests by FBI to NSA for Dissemination of Electronic Surveillance Information," I directed a communication to the Acting Director of Security, National Security Agency (NSA), Fort George G. Meade, Maryland, dated October 3, 1973, which referenced Attorney General Richardson's memorandum and reiterated that NSA was to discontinue all Watch Lists which would entail furnishing this Bureau information obtained through electronic surveillance.

In accordance with your request, I have enclosed a copy of the last NSA Watch List which was used prior to the termination of this investigative technique.

In view of the extreme sensitivity of this matter, it is requested that knowledge of this technique and of the list be held most closely and on an absolute need-to-know basis within your Division. Exposure of some of the names included on this list could jeopardize lives. Knowledge of some of the names on this list could cause irreparable damage to current investigations involving delicate security matters and seriously impair future such investigations. I cannot overemphasize the potential harm of unauthorized disclosure in the matter.

This is to advise you that the Bureau of Transportation and International Services of the Post Office Department has been very much concerned with the handling of mail in Cuba, and the enclosed letter from this Bureau to the Assistant Secretary of State for Inter American Affairs will explain the continuous efforts of the Post Office Department to do everything within its power to protect United States mails.

SUBJECT: VISIT OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL TO THE NEW YORK OFFICE NOVEMBER 4, 1963

This memorandum is submitted to amplify information reported by the New York Division by teletype as to the visit of the Attorney General there on November 4, 1963.

The Attorney General was particularly interested in the briefing afforded him with regard to espionage matters. It was obvious from the questions he asked that the President had discussed with him the Director's visit last week, as the Attorney General seemed cognizant of the highlights of the particular situations covered. He asked many questions concerning the difficulties encountered in physical surveillances in espionage cases and was impressed with the facts related to him by the Agent Supervisors in New York, predicated on their personal experiences in conducting this type of operation.

He was informed in some detail as to the countermeasures taken by Soviet agents to detect or neutralize our surveillance activities and the corresponding increase in manpower which the FBI has to utilize to overcome these countermeasures.

The New York Office described the various Soviet establishments in that Division which pointed up the physical surveillance difficulties that had to be met. The Attorney General did not ask any questions about confidential techniques of any kind.

After the briefing was over, the Attorney General shook hands with each of the Agents and thanked each personally for his contribution to the meeting.

ASAC Bryant and Agent Supervisors from the Criminal Section briefly pointed out the continuing developments in the organized crime picture in the New York area. This was well handled, but since it concerned a matter with which the Attorney General was familiar did not have the impact of the briefing on espionage matters.

The Attorney General has obviously talked frequently with John McCone and other Central Intelligence Agency officials and may consequently have had a somewhat restricted viewpoint concerning espionage. His visit to our New York Office certainly emphasized for him the importance of the work the Bureau is doing in this field.

As a matter of collateral interest, Ed Guthman, the Attorney General's Assistant for Public Information, was in New York Monday for the purpose of conferring with Theodore White, the well-known author. It is understood that White has prepared a two-part article for "Life" magazine dealing with the Negro movement in the United States.

This article is described as being a hard-hitting analysis of the Negro movement. Guthman mentioned on the return trip to Washington that White had in his long manuscript two paragraphs dealing with the communist influence in the Negro movement. One reference in this regard was to alleged communist efforts to infiltrate the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) chapters at Pittsburgh and Los Angeles. Guthman said that he questioned White about this reference and was told that this information had been received from CORE officials, who claimed to have taken decisive action to counter this communist effort.

Guthman advised there was one other reference to communist influence. No names or locations were mentioned, but one individual was described as having been employed by Martin Luther King and subsequently discharged. This, of course, is Hunter Pitts O'Dell.

There was one other reference to an unnamed communist, whose attempt to infiltrate had also allegedly been thwarted.

The FBI was not asked to comment on this article in any way. It was a matter handled solely by Guthman while the Attorney General was being briefed in our New York Office. He mentioned it in casual conversation and pointed out that the FBI was not referred to in White's article in any way.

INTERNAL SECURITY - CUBA

On December 3, 1963, a confidential informant advised he learned that several requests had been received by the Pan American Health Organization (PAHO), Washington, D.C., from the PAHO Zone Office in Mexico, instructing the former that under no circumstances should the PAHO in Washington, D.C., address mail directly to Cuba. (c)

In this connection the following information was brought to the attention of the informant:

The policy of the Cuban Government in relation to correspondence that comes and goes from Cuba is the systematic examination of all letters and parcels that pass through the Cuban Postal Administration of the Communication Department. (c)

This policy of the Cuban Government caused the PAHO serious inconvenience. In the first place, correspondence is delayed because the PAHO pouches are voluminous and contain a variety of correspondence. The "reading" takes a long time, and the officials of the Cuban Post Office are known to have had inspection delays of more than two months. The fact that the PAHO Zone Representative in Cuba hands over the pouches to the Expediting Unit, Correspondence Section, Cuban Department of Public Health, does not excuse the search. (c)

The second great inconvenience is in what is referred to as confidential correspondence, which, along with the rest, is read and possibly photographed. (c)

In light of the above, the PAHO Cuban Consultant Doctor Carlos Paes Leme Sa is adopting a system of sending all PAHO official correspondence in the hands of some visitor or official that travels to Mexico. (c)

Soviet hostility toward the SOE (as well as the OSS) intensified from 1944 onward because of perceived SOE inefficiency as well as Soviet suspicion of SOE activities in areas considered within the Soviet sphere of influence. There were, however, several examples of successful cooperation between the SOE and NKVD, especially in Afghanistan and Yugoslavia.

At the end of the war the SOE developed extensive plans to participate in the soon-to-be-called Cold War, but the agency was disbanded in early 1946. SOE strength peaked at about 13,000 men and women, both military and civilian. The SOE had three operational heads:

Aug. 1940-May 1942 —Sir Frank Nelson
 May. 1942-Sept. 1943 —Sir Charles Hambro
 Sept. 1943-Jan. 1946 —Maj.-Gen. Sir Colin Gubbins

Sokolov and his wife were charged with conspiring to commit espionage in the United States from 1957 to 1963 by attempting to collect intelligence on U.S. missile sites, nuclear weapons, and other military activities. They pleaded not guilty to the charges. The U.S. government decided not to prosecute because of concerns that sensitive information would be made public in a trial.

One of the principal witnesses against the Sokolovs was KAARLO RUDOLPH TUOMI, a DOUBLE AGENT working for the FBI.

Sokolov, a Soviet citizen, asked to be deported to Czechoslovakia rather than the Soviet Union. The U.S. government acceded to his request.

CODE NAME for a longtime COUNTRYINTELLIGENCE operation conducted by the FBI against the U.S. Communist Party.

From the mid-1950s until about 1977 two brothers, Jack and Morris Childs, were trusted members of the U.S. Communist Party, carrying cash from Moscow to the United States to finance the party, meeting Soviet leaders Nikita Khrushchev and Leonid Brezhnev, and conveying their Cold War attitudes toward the United States. At the same time, the Childs brothers were informers for the FBI.

Ukrainian-born Morris Childs joined the American Communist Party in 1921 and was sent to the Lenin School in Moscow for training as an AGENT in the espionage underground that Soviet intelligence was running in the United States. In 1932 Morris's younger brother, Jack, became the business manager of the Young Communist League and was also sent to Moscow for training. Later Morris became the Moscow correspondent for The Daily Worker, the newspaper published by the U.S. Communist Party.

After a hiatus during the 1940s, in 1954 Morris Childs returned to the communist underground. One of his duties was getting money from Moscow to U.S. communists. From about that time, however, Morris and Jack Childs were working for the FBI.

The brothers reported to the FBI that Stanley Levison, a close adviser to civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., was a communist. Armed with this information, J. EDGAR HOOVER, director of the FBI, began his campaign to discredit King and privately spread the word to U.S. officials that King had communist ties.

The first authoritative information on the Solo operation came in The FBI and Martin Luther King Jr.: From 'Solo' to Memphis (1981) by historian David J. Garrow. More details came in Operation Solo (1996) by JOHN BARRON, an author well connected to FBI sources. Barron said that Morris Childs had a close relationship with YURI ANDROPOV, then head of the KGB and later the leader of the Soviet Union. Barron also said that the brothers were sent on missions to Cuban leader Fidel Castro and China's Mao Zedong.

Morris Childs reported that he had witnessed meetings about the widening split between the Soviet Union and the People's Republic of China. By getting such inside information through Solo, U.S. officials had more knowledge about the Soviet-China breach than historians had previously believed.

●● SOMBOLAY, SPECIALIST ALBERT T.

U.S. Army soldier who spied for the Iraqis prior to the 1991 Persian Gulf War. Sombolay, with an artillery battalion of the 8th Infantry Division based in Germany, pleaded guilty to contacting Iraqi officials and committing espionage.

He negotiated to provide the Iraqis with information about troop movements to the Middle East and various military documents. He received approximately $1,300 from the Iraqis for his efforts, according to an Army spokesman. He was sentenced to 34 years in prison by an Army court.

Born in BERLIN, to a communist father, Ruth joined the Communist Youth Union when she was 17. In 1929 she married Rolf Hamburger in Germany, and the following year she was ordered by Soviet intelligence to go to Shanghai. There she met AGNES SMEDLEY, RICHARD SORGE, and probably ROGER HOLLIS. Sorge persuaded Ruth to work as an ILLEGAL for the GRU, Soviet MILITARY INTELLIGENCE. She allowed her apartment to be used as a meeting place for Sorge and also served as courier for the group.

Highly successful Soviet spy who permitted the shift of the focus of the Far East to help the Soviet Union. Born in Russia, his mother, Sorge was a German.

After she did the RECONNAISSANCE for a raid up the Combahee River in South Carolina, a Confederate officer reported, "The enemy seems to have been well posted as to the character and capacity of our troops and their small chance of encountering opposition, and to have been well guided by persons thoroughly acquainted with the river and country."

After the war, she tried unsuccessfully to collect $1,800 in back pay. She finally got a pension in 1899—but only as the widow of a veteran. She settled in Auburn, N.Y., opened schools for freedmen in the South, and sponsored a home for poor blacks in Auburn. In acknowledgment of her work during the Civil War, she was buried with full military honors.

●● TUOMI, KAARLO RUDOLPH

Soviet MILITARY INTELLIGENCE OFFICER who became a DOUBT AGENT, working for the United States.

Born in the United States, Tuomi was instilled with a love of communism at an early age by his Finnish stepfather. In 1933 his family moved from Michigan to the Soviet Union. Four years later the NKVD arrested his stepfather, who was never seen again.

After working as a lumberjack to support his mother, in 1939 Tuomi was drafted into the Red Army. Although trained for intelligence duty, he was assigned to the infantry when the Germans invaded the Soviet Union in June 1941. During the war he was decorated for bravery.

Leaving the Army in 1946, he enrolled in the Teacher's Institute at Kirov. While there he married one of the daughters of the family with which he was a boarder. Late in 1949 the secret police (MGB) blackmailed Tuomi into working as an informer. After graduating from the institute, he remained—at the MGB's bidding—an English instructor. His career as a teacher-informer continued at other educational activities until 1957, when he was recruited by the KGB to serve as an INFORMER in the West.

He was to undergo specialized SPY SCHOOL training for three years. However, the deteriorating relations between the United States and Soviet Union at the time led to Tuomi being seconded to the GRU, Soviet MILITARY INTELLIGENCE, and sent to Western Europe in mid-1958 with the COVER of an American tourist to familiarize himself with Western society. He arrived in Canada in Dec. 1958 carrying the papers of a Finnish-American; once in Canada, he assumed to cover of an American businessman Robert B. White of Chicago. On New Year's Eve he crossed into the United States by train.

After establishing his LEGEND in the United States, he made contact with his GRU HANDLER. Picked up by the FBI, who had him under observation since he had crossed the Canadian border, Tuomi was forced to admit his real identity to U.S. COUNTERESPIONAGE officers. He was turned into a double agent, working as a clerk at Tiffany's and later for a steamship firm while he remained in contact with the GRU and awaited specific assignments. Meanwhile, the FBI had access to all of his communications with the Soviet Union and learned much of the contemporary GRU TRADECRAFT.

In June 1963, scheduled to return to the Soviet Union for a brief visit and then return to the United States, he elected to remain in his native country, leaving his wife and children in the Soviet Union. He disappeared into the population, and not until 1971 did the FBI, in a Reader's Digest article, reveal his service as a double agent.

●● TURING, ALAN (b. 1912 d. 1954)

British mathematician and cryptologist at BLETCHLEY PARK during World War II who led the group that found a way to crack Germany's ENIGMA CIPHER machine.

Turing's maternal grandfather was known as the genius who saved India for Britain by inventing a fan that whisked and cooled the subcontinent's hot, humid air. Following in his grandfather's footsteps, in 1936, two years after graduating from Cambridge, Turing wrote a paper, "On Computable Numbers," forecasting the computer. His theoretical version, called the "universal Turing machine," could, he said, imitate any other machine.

Carrying this theory into reality, Turing and his colleagues at Bletchley Park were presented with an Enigma machine and told to build another machine that could fathom its machinations. The team created the BRONZE GODDESS, a "a large copper-coloured cupboard"; it was a primitive computer that cracked its first codes in April 1940. This was the beginning of ULTRA, the epochal effort that gave the Allies the ability to read German codes.

Later, when the Germans upgraded Enigma, Bletchley Park cryptologists, using Turing's theories, built the COLOSSUS, the first programmable digital computer.

Turing, a long-haired young man in "rumpled and dirty clothes," was a HOMOSEXUAL. When schoolboys were reported molested in a town near Bletchley Park early in 1944, Turing was transferred to a secret MI6 radio laboratory at Hanslope Park in Buckinghamshire. There he worked on a voice scrambler, while at Bletchley Park his colleagues produced the Colossus.

After the war, Turing's homosexuality made him a SECURITY RISK in the opinion of intelligence officials. He died of cyanide poisoning after being convicted in Manchester of being a practicing homosexual.

SUBJECT: JARO CODE WORD
ESPIONAGE - R Russia

This case involves the two Soviet illegal agents using the identities of Robert and Joy Ann Baltch against whom espionage conspiracy charges were dismissed on 10/2/64 before Judge John F. Dooling, Jr., in the United States District Court, Eastern District of New York. This case was dismissed on motion of the Government on national security grounds.

This memorandum is prepared to set forth the background and facts of this case ~~DOWNGRADED TO~~

BACKGROUND: SECRET
Per 284729711
Date 5/13/2016

Soviet Army Intelligence

In March, 1959, Bureau was able to successfully approach Kaarlo Rudolph Tuomi (code name Karot), a GRU illegal agent who had entered the United States a short time before under clandestine circumstances. He agreed to operate against the Soviets as a defector in place. He operated in that capacity continuously until June, 1963, when he was ordered to return to the Soviet Union. He decided to remain in this country rather than go home.

Live informant

In January, 1962, the Bureau uncovered the Baltches, also GRU illegals, through one of the Bureau's programs, which involves the screening of applicants to practice cosmetology and hairdressing. The female subject had been employed in the Baltimore area as a hairdresser at the time. According to the [redacted] source, these subjects were dispatched to the United States in 1959 and their target was the Pentagon in Washington. Their activities were followed through lookouts, technical and microphone coverage established on their residence, periodic anonymous source contacts, and interception of their mail. We were able to read a number of secret ink messages they had received from the Soviets through the use of developers: [redacted]

[redacted] In the Summer of 1963 we had learned through their secret ink communications that they had expected to return to Moscow shortly. Around this period information had been received from our [redacted] source that all GRU illegals then in the United States would not be returned, but would be replaced by others because of disruption in the GRU over the Oleg Penkovsky matter (GRU colonel who was executed by the Soviets for collaboration with the British and CIA).

Re: JARO

COURSE OF ACTION RECOMMENDED AND APPROVED IN JUNE, 1963:

My memorandum of 6/26/63 considered future course of action to be taken in these cases in light of developments at that time. It was pointed out that the Karot informant could be used as a Government witness in an espionage conspiracy prosecution, which would have as the main defendant Ivan Egorov, Soviet national employed by the United Nations Secretariat. Egorov and his wife, both of whom did not have diplomatic immunity, were observed clearing a Karot drop in New York on 6/6/63. It was pointed out that from a trial standpoint, this phase of the case presented no extra-legal problems.

My memorandum of 6/26/63 also pointed out that possibly the Baltches could be brought into the same conspiracy inasmuch as the Egorovs were observed filling the Baltch drop in New York (a different location from that of the Karot drop) on 6/15/63. It was pointed out that any prosecution involving the Baltches could raise considerable problems in view of the confidential techniques that were used and which could be raised by the defense during a trial; further, that if we would proceed with such prosecution it would appear advisable to drop the charges of espionage against them if such issues were raised in order to protect our highly confidential techniques. It was felt, however, that lesser charges could be made against the Baltches, such as falsely claiming citizenship, etc.

My memorandum also pointed out that in addition to the various legal problems involved another possible obstacle would be reluctance on the part of the State Department and the Administration to take prosecutive action against Soviet personnel at that time. The Director noted "This is very real."

My memorandum recommended and it was approved that this entire matter be discussed with the Department concerning the feasibility of prosecuting the Baltches and Egorov.

DISCUSSIONS WITH THE DEPARTMENT:

On 6/27/63 this matter was discussed with Assistant Attorney General Yeagley and his assistants. It was pointed out that the involvement of the Egorovs with Karot presented no extra-legal problems but that the Baltch case could raise various legal difficulties in view of the techniques used. We advised the Department attorneys that if it appeared our sources and techniques were jeopardized, it would appear advisable to drop the espionage charges against the subjects and proceed against them on lesser charges. Yeagley felt there was a good possibility of proceeding against the Egorovs and Baltches on the espionage conspiracy charges and he preferred to proceed on these charges rather than on lesser offenses. He said he would discuss this matter with the Attorney General.

On 7/1/63 Yeagley advised it was the Attorney General's opinion we could not permit the Baltches to leave the country and we should proceed with the espionage conspiracy prosecution. Thereafter, the Baltches and the Egorovs were arrested 7/2/63 and indicted 7/15/63. On 10/11/63 the Egorovs were allowed to return to the Soviet Union by the State Department, in exchange for two Americans held by the Soviets and the charges against them were dismissed. We, of course, were not even consulted on this matter.

The release of the Egorovs had unquestionably weakened this prosecution. Both the Department attorneys and United States Attorney Hoey had expressed this opinion at the time. Hoey went so far as to state at a conference with Bureau personnel in Washington on 10/29/63 that 75% of his case disappeared when the Egorovs left.

My memorandum of 12/17/63 raised questions as to the wisdom of proceeding with this prosecution and it was recommended and approved by the Director that we again discuss this case with Yeagley concerning the desirability of dropping the espionage charges against the Baltches in view of the techniques involved and proceeding on a lesser charge.

On 1/16/64 a conference was held with Yeagley and his assistants and we again discussed the various points which could involve revelation of our confidential and tainted techniques. One of the overt acts alleged in the indictment cited the filling of the Baltch drop by the Egorovs 6/15/63 and the clearing of this drop by the male Baltch subject the same day. It was pointed out that if the defense explored how the FBI knew the location of this drop and how our Agents happened to be in the drop area on that day, we could not answer without revealing the confidential and tainted sources involved. (The location of the drop was made known to us through a mail interception of a Baltch communication through the cooperation of postal authorities and the development of a secret ink message contained in the communication.)

It was the consensus of Yeagley and his aides that a good possibility existed that the defense might not raise these points and that even if raised, the court might not allow the defense to explore these points as irrelevant. However, if the court allowed the defense to explore these points, it was their consensus that the Government would have to withdraw from the case. In view of the possibility of these problems arising in this prosecution, Yeagley was asked concerning the desirability of dropping the espionage charges and proceeding on lesser charge, such as falsely claiming citizenship. It was the opinion of Yeagley and his aides that the Government should go ahead with the espionage prosecution because there was the possibility it could be successful; further, in view of the stiff penalty involved, the Baltches might attempt to make a deal. Yeagley and his assistants felt that dropping the espionage charges and proceeding on a lesser charge would show a sign of weakness and that the Government would look much better if it was necessary to drop the case during the trial, thus making it appear it was forced to dismiss charges against two Soviet spies on legal technicalities. If this occurred, the Government would then attempt to proceed on lesser grounds.

OBSERVATIONS:

As it can be seen from the foregoing, the Department was made fully aware of the problems involved in any espionage prosecution of the Baltches from the outset of our discussions with it and of the possibility it might be forced to drop these charges during the trial of this case and the Department decided to take its chances.

SUBJECT: [JARO] cod. word
ESPIONAGE - R

This memorandum is prepared in response to the Director's question concerning the trial of this case in which he asks, "Is there any tainted evidence here? H."

[Jaro] is the code name for the investigation of the Soviet illegal agents utilizing the identities of Robert and Joy Ann Bailch. They were arrested July 2, 1963, and their trial started September 28, 1964, in the Eastern District of New York.

On September 28, 1964, defense counsel made a motion to suppress the evidence obtained in the search of the subjects' apartment on the basis that there was illegal eavesdropping used. The judge heard arguments and asked the Government to furnish the court with information as to whether the Government used illegal eavesdropping devices in the subjects' apartment house. In connection with this, the Director asked the above question.

In this regard, the Bureau has from the very outset of consideration of prosecution in this case advised the Department and the United States Attorney that during the investigation of this case techniques had been used which would not be admissible during the trial and highly sensitive sources were used which could never be revealed in the interest of national security. These include such things as technical and microphone contacts, periodic anonymous source contacts, as well as sophisticated coverage of mail. In addition, through the use of developers ~~_____~~, we were successful in reading secret ink messages which the subjects received from their Soviet superiors. The Bureau's position has been that if any of our sources and techniques were in danger of being revealed, the case would be dropped.

There is attached a memorandum dated June 26, 1963, which outlines the background of this case and also sets forth the observations concerning the future course of action in this case. This memorandum pointed out the possibility of the above questions being raised.

At 10:40 a.m. on September 29, 1964, information was received that United States Attorney Hoey of the Eastern District of New York had informed the court that no leads were obtained from illegal eavesdropping and that the building where the Baltches lived in Washington, D. Prior memoranda have advised of the starting of the trial of the Soviet illegal agents in this case, Mr. and Mrs. Robert K. Baltch, in the Eastern District of New York and motions by defense counsel regarding the nature of evidence to be submitted in this case.

The Judge originally denied the motions, but Assistant Attorney General Yeagley has advised that USA Hoey in answering questions by the Judge gave answers which were too broad and which the Government cannot support and therefore it is necessary for the Government to make additional statements to Judge Dooling who is sitting in this case in the Eastern District of New York. My memorandum of September 30, 1964, advised that while we were not aware of the contents of the conversations between USA Hoey and Judge Dooling, we had no objections to Yeagley's proposed amending statement as it was correct.

Subsequently on the afternoon of 10-1-64, Departmental Attorneys Thomas K. Hall and Kevin Maroney advised Supervisor Litrento and myself that USA Hoey's statement to Judge Dooling was unfortunate because it was too broad. They believe that the Judge's query pertained to any tainted source at the Baltch residence and was confined to eavesdropping devices, but that Hoey in his answer had not confined the answer to the residence or to eavesdropping, either of which would perhaps have prevented the current problem. (No information obtained from wiretaps or microphones is contemplated to be used in this case and the only tainted source is a mail intercept which did not take place anywhere near the residence).

Subsequently on the evening of 10-1-64, Mr. Hall advised that he had just learned that apparently Hoey in his discussions with the court had stated, or at least indicated, there was no microphone involved in this case and, of course, this was incorrect and the Department felt the record had to be corrected. asked if the Bureau had any objection and was advised in the negative. This morning Mr. Hall called to advise that USA Hoey had now requested advice as to what answer could be given the court should he be asked (1) if there was a wiretap involved in this case and (2) if there was a mail intercept in this case. After checking, I called Hall back and said that we would leave the answer to #1 up to the Department, but that if the Department saw necessary, the Bureau would not object. However, with regard to #2, under no circumstances is the Bureau willing to admit that a mail intercept was utilized and Hall said he would pass this information on to Hoey and Assistant Attorney General Yeagley who is in New York.

Assumes all mail intercepted everywhere.
Hall advised that he had discussed this case with Acting Attorney General Katzenbach this morning and Katzenbach was of the opinion that the Department must be candid with the Judge. He said Katzenbach recognized the problems, but felt that in view of the value of the case, an effort should be made to go ahead with the trial even if it might be necessary drop the overt act where our tainted source is involved, and proceed on a general conspiracy basis with the recognition that the verdict might be against us, but we would have revealed the Soviet espionage activities to the people. Hall said he was passing on the Acting Attorney General's comments to Assistant Attorney General Yeagley. Hall said that the motions of defense counsel and the complications with regard to the answers may eventually force the Government to drop the prosecution. He said in view of the many facets involved, he did not feel there was any reason to agree to a pre-trial hearing on the issue of tainted source if this should be required by the court, and rather than do this, they are prepared to drop the espionage charges and attempt to proceed on lesser grounds.

ACTION

SAC Schmit, NYO, was advised of the above developments and requested to keep in close touch with Yeagley in New York and you will be kept advised of developments.

ESPIONAGE - RUSSIA

EXCERPTS ARE DETAILS OF A HIGHLY SENSITIVE FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE INVESTIGATION

Captioned code word concerns our investigation of William Lowell Besley who has been identified by 2 Army Security Agency (ASA) officials on basis of voice as the individual who attempted to transmit "Top Secret" defense information to the Soviet UN Mission on 7-21-64. This memo advises of the Department's prosecutive opinion in this matter, recommends we advise appropriate U.S. Government agencies and that subject be interviewed.

BACKGROUND:

On 7-22-64 our highly confidential coverage intercepted a communication addressed to the Chief of the Soviet Mission to the UN. In this communication the writer offered to sell information concerning U.S. efforts against Soviet guided missiles. In view of the sensitivity of the information, the communication was withheld from the Soviets. Thereafter, an ad was placed in the "The New York Times" which indicated an interest in the offer and requested the writer to contact a certain telephone number. (Actually, this was an unlisted telephone number under the control of our New York office.) On 7-25-64 a caller, subsequently identified as Besley, communicated with a Special Agent of our New York office and again reiterated his interest in furnishing information to the Soviets and at the same time, he divulged "Top Secret" data relating to U.S. communications intelligence effort. To date, no further contact has been made by the subject and we presently are conducting highly discreet investigation to locate him in New York City.

Memo Branigan to Sullivan 8-7-64 reported that on 8-6-64 we discussed this case with Mr. Thomas Hall of the Department concerning the possibility of initiating prosecutive action against subject. At that time Hall withheld his final opinion pending advice from the Bureau as to (1) identity of the Bureau's original source; (2) further information as to what portions of the subject's letter and of the transcript of his telephone call could be declassified for prosecutive purposes; and (3) advice as to technique used to record conversation between subject and New York agent. In accordance with recommendations made in the above-mentioned memo which were approved, Hall was advised on 8-10-64 that our original source is a mail intercept. (He was furnished no additional information concerning that source and he was requested to hold this information closely.) Hall was also advised that the recording was accomplished by making a tie line connection at the telephone frame in our New York office. This had the effect of creating an extension telephone from which the recording was made. Hall expressed belief that since the recording was made simultaneously with the receipt of the message by the person being called, the recording would not violate the communications act.

Hall briefed Assistant Attorney General Yeagley on the facts following which Hall stated that the Department would not authorize prosecutive action either by way of a complaint or by indictment because of the illegality of the original source. Hall also advised that in view of the Department's decision, no purpose would be served by the Defense Department continuing its efforts to determine whether any of the information in this case can be declassified for prosecution purposes. Inquiry was then made of Hall as to whether the Department's opinion would be the same if subject subsequently furnished a signed statement. He gave no opinion and he was advised that should we subsequently obtain a signed statement from subject, the facts would be re-presented.

Through liaison we have been following National Security Agency (NSA) efforts to effect declassification. These efforts have now reached point where NSA is ready to make recommendations to the United States Intelligence Board (USIB), the authorizing body of which CIA Director McCone is Chairman. In order for USIB to consider the problem of declassification, the Bureau will have to appropriately brief that body. Since there is a possibility of subsequently obtaining a signed statement from subject which could influence the Department in taking prosecutive action, the Bureau should brief USIB.

OBSERVATIONS:

Despite the Department's decision, we must continue our efforts to locate the subject for purpose of interview, with view of obtaining a signed statement and representing facts to the Department. If the Department again declines prosecution, interview may serve as a deterrent to subject subsequently attempting to contact the Soviets. In our liaison with NSA, we have learned that Cyrus R. Vance, Deputy Director of Defense, has been fully briefed concerning subject. Vance reportedly commented that he was extremely concerned about this matter in view of the inestimable damage that could be done to the U.S. if the subject were to leave the U.S. or otherwise furnish his information to the Soviets. Vance is quoted as having stated that "tight control" or surveillance should be instituted to prevent any possibility of subject's information reaching the Soviets. As a practical matter, without the arrest of subject, the Bureau is in no position to guarantee against such eventuality as surveillance coverage alone would not prevent such action on his part. In this connection, subject's permanent address and the current address of his parents is Senneville, Canada. The Bureau could not prevent his traveling to Canada from where he could either contact the Soviet Embassy or depart for the USSR.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. It is recommended that subject be interviewed when located. Attached for approval is airtel to New York instructing that all logical investigation be conducted openly in effort to locate the subject. NY is instructed that when subject is located attempt be made to obtain subject's admissions and signed statement and, if successful, facts be immediately furnished to the Bureau for presentation to the Department. New York is also instructed that in such eventuality subject be retained under control until the Department has made its ruling..

Captioned code word concerns our investigation of who has been identified by 2 Army Security Agency (ASA) officials on basis of voice as the individual who attempted to transmit "Top Secret" defense information to the Soviet on 7-21-64. This memo advises of the Department's prosecutive opinion in this matter, recommends we advise appropriate U.S. Government agencies and that subject be interviewed.

BACKGROUND:

On 7-22-64 our highly confidential coverage intercepted a communication addressed to the of the Soviet . In this communication the writer offered to sell information concerning U.S. efforts against Soviet guided missiles. In view of the sensitivity of the information, the communication was withheld from the Soviets. Thereafter, an ad was placed in the "The New York Times" which indicated an interest in the offer and requested the writer to contact a certain telephone number. (Actually, this was an unlisted telephone number under the control of our New York office.) On 7-25-64 a caller, subsequently identified as , communicated with a Special Agent of our New York office and again reiterated his interest in furnishing information to the Soviets and at the same time, he divulged "Top Secret" data relating to U.S. communications intelligence effort. To date, no further contact has been made by the subject and we presently are conducting highly discreet investigation to locate him in New York City.

Memo Branigan to Sullivan 8-7-64 reported that on 8-6-64 we discussed this case with Mr. Thomas Hall of the Department concerning the possibility of initiating prosecutive action against subject. At that time Hall withheld his final opinion pending advice from the Bureau as to (1) identity of the Bureau's original source; (2) further information as to what portions of the subject's letter and of the transcript of his telephone call could be declassified for prosecutive purposes; and (3) advice as to technique used to record conversation between subject and New York agent. In accordance with recommendations made in the above-mentioned memo which were approved, Hall was advised on 8-10-64 that our original source is

1 a mail intercept. (He was furnished no additional information concerning that source and he was requested to hold this information closely.) Hall was also advised that the recording was accomplished by making a tie line connection at the telephone frame in our New York office. This had the effect of creating an extension telephone from which the recording was made. Hall expressed belief that since the recording was made simultaneously with the receipt of the message by the person being called, the recording would not violate the communications act.

Hall briefed Assistant Attorney General Yeagley on the facts following which Hall stated that the Department would not authorize prosecutive action either by way of a complaint or by indictment because of the illegality of the original source. Hall also advised that in view of the Department's decision, no purpose would be served by the Defense Department continuing its efforts to determine whether any of the information in this case can be declassified for prosecution purposes. Inquiry was then made of Hall as to whether the Department's opinion would be the same if subject subsequently furnished a signed statement. He gave no opinion and he was advised that should we subsequently obtain a signed statement from subject, the facts would be re-presented.

This memorandum is prepared in response to the Director's question concerning the trial of this case in which he asks, "Is there any tainted evidence here? H."

~~_____~~ is the code name for the investigation of the Soviet illegal agents utilizing the identities of Robert and Joy Ann Balitch. They were arrested July 2, 1963, and their trial started September 28, 1964, in the Eastern District of New York.

On September 28, 1964, defense counsel made a motion to suppress the evidence obtained in the search of the subjects' apartment on the basis that there was illegal eavesdropping used. The judge heard arguments and asked the Government to furnish the court with information as to whether the Government used illegal eavesdropping devices in the subjects' apartment house. In connection with this, the Director asked the above question.

In this regard, the Bureau has from the very outset of consideration of prosecution in this case advised the Department and the United States Attorney that during the investigation of this case techniques had been used which would not be admissible during the trial and highly sensitive sources were used which could never be revealed in the interest of national security. These include such things as technical and microphone contacts, periodic anonymous source contacts, as well as sophisticated coverage of mail. In addition, through the use of developers ~~_____~~, we were successful in reading secret ink messages which the subjects received from their Soviet superiors. The Bureau's position has been that if any of our sources and techniques were in danger of being revealed, the case would be dropped.

There is attached a memorandum dated June 26, 1963, which outlines the background of this case and also sets forth the observations concerning the future course of action in this case. This memorandum pointed out the possibility of the above questions being raised.

At 10:40 a.m. on September 29, 1964, information was received that United States Attorney Hoey of the Eastern District of New York had informed the court that no leads were obtained from illegal eavesdropping and that the building where the Baltches lived in Washington, D. C., had not been used by the FBI. The judge denied the defense motion for a hearing on the question of illegal eavesdropping and denied the motion to suppress the evidence..

SUBJECT: 9-1-64 CODE WORD
ESPIONAGE - RUSSIA

Prior memoranda have advised of the starting of the trial of the Soviet illegal agents in this case, Mr. and Mrs. Robert K. Baltch; in the Eastern District of New York and motions by defense counsel regarding the nature of evidence to be submitted in this case.

The Judge originally denied the motions, but Assistant Attorney General Yeagley has advised that USA Hoey in answering questions by the Judge gave answers which were too broad and which the Government cannot support and therefore it is necessary for the Government to make additional statements to Judge Dooling who is sitting in this case in the Eastern District of New York. My memorandum of September 30, 1964, advised that while we were not aware of the contents of the conversations between USA Hoey and Judge Dooling, we had no objections to Yeagley's proposed amending statement as it was correct.

Subsequently on the afternoon of 10-1-64, Departmental Attorneys Thomas K. Hall and Kevin Maroney advised Supervisor Litrento and myself that USA Hoey's statement to Judge Dooling was unfortunate because it was too broad. They believe that the Judge's query pertained to any tainted source at the Baltch residence and was confined to eavesdropping devices, but that Hoey in his answer had not confined the answer to the residence or to eavesdropping, either of which would perhaps have prevented the current problem. (No information obtained from wiretaps or microphones is contemplated to be used in this case and the only tainted source is a mail intercept which did not take place anywhere near the residence).

Subsequently on the evening of 10-1-64, Mr. Hall advised that he had just learned that apparently Hoey in his discussions with the court had stated, or at least indicated, there was no microphone involved in this case and, of course, this was incorrect and the Department felt the record had to be corrected. asked if the Bureau had any objection and was advised in the negative. This morning Mr. Hall called to advise that USA Hoey had now requested advice as to what answer could be given the court should he be asked (1) if there was a wiretap involved in this case and (2) if there was a mail intercept in this case. After checking, I called Hall back and said that we would leave the answer to #1 up to the Department, but that if the Department saw necessary, the Bureau would not object. However, with regard to #2, under no circumstances is the Bureau willing to admit that a mail intercept was utilized and Hall said he would pass this information on to Hoey and Assistant Attorney General Yeagley who is in New York.

Assumes all mail intercepted everywhere.
Hall advised that he had discussed this case with Acting Attorney General Katzenbach this morning and Katzenbach was of the opinion that the Department must be candid with the Judge. He said Katzenbach recognized the problems, but felt that in view of the value of the case, an effort should be made to go ahead with the trial even if it might be necessary drop the overt act where our tainted source is involved, and proceed on a general conspiracy basis with the recognition that the verdict might be against us, but we would have revealed the Soviet espionage activities to the people. Hall said he was passing on the Acting Attorney General's comments to Assistant Attorney General Yeagley. Hall said that the motions of defense counsel and the complications with regard to the answers may eventually force the Government to drop the prosecution. He said in view of the many facets involved, he did not feel there was any reason to agree to a pre-trial hearing on the issue of tainted source if this should be required by the court, and rather than do this, they are prepared to drop the espionage charges and attempt to proceed on lesser grounds.

SAC Schmit, NYO, was advised of the above developments and requested to keep in close touch with Yeagley in New York and you will be kept advised of developments.

This case involves the two Soviet illegal agents using the identities of Robert and Joy Ann Baltch against whom espionage conspiracy charges were dismissed on 10/2/64 before Judge John F. Dooling, Jr., in the United States District Court, Eastern District of New York. This case was dismissed on motion of the Government on national security grounds.

This memorandum is prepared to set forth the background and facts of this case.

BACKGROUND:

In March, 1959, Bureau was able to successfully approach [REDACTED] (code name [REDACTED]), a GRU illegal agent who had entered the United States a short time before under clandestine circumstances. He agreed to operate against the Soviets as a defector in place. He operated in that capacity continuously until June, 1963, when he was ordered to return to the Soviet Union. He decided to remain in this country rather than go home.

Soviet Army Intelligence

Live informant

In January, 1962, the Bureau uncovered the Baltches, also GRU illegals, through one of the Bureau's programs, which involves the screening of applicants to practice cosmetology and hairdressing. The female subject had been employed in the Baltimore area as a hairdresser at the time. According to the [REDACTED] source, these subjects were dispatched to the United States in 1959 and their target was the Pentagon in Washington. Their activities were followed through lookouts, technical and microphone coverage established on their residence, periodic anonymous source contacts, and interception of their mail. We were able to read a number of secret ink messages they had received from the Soviets through the use of developers. [REDACTED]

In the Summer of 1963 we had learned through their secret ink communications that they had expected to return to Moscow shortly. Around this period information had been received from our [REDACTED] source that all GRU illegals then in the United States would not be returned, but would be replaced by others because of disruption in the GRU over the Oleg Penkovsky matter (GRU colonel who was executed by the Soviets for collaboration with the British and CIA).

Memorandum W. A. Branigan to W. C. Sullivan
Re: [REDACTED] CODE WORD)
65-67201

COURSE OF ACTION RECOMMENDED AND APPROVED IN JUNE, 1963:

My memorandum of 6/26/63 considered future course of action to be taken in these cases in light of developments at that time. It was pointed out that the [REDACTED] informant could be used as a Government witness in an espionage conspiracy prosecution, which would have as the main defendant Ivan Egorov, Soviet national employed by the United Nations Secretariat. Egorov and his wife, both of whom did not have diplomatic immunity, were observed clearing a [REDACTED] drop in New York on 6/6/63. It was pointed out that from a trial standpoint, this phase of the case presented no extra-legal problems.

My memorandum of 6/26/63 also pointed out that possibly the Baltches could be brought into the same conspiracy inasmuch as the Egorovs were observed filling the Baltch drop in New York (a different location from that of the [REDACTED] drop) on 6/15/63. It was pointed out that any prosecution involving the Baltches could raise considerable problems in view of the confidential techniques that were used and which could be raised by the defense during a trial; further, that if we would proceed with such prosecution it would appear advisable to drop the charges of espionage against them if such issues were raised in order to protect our highly confidential techniques. It was felt, however, that lesser charges could be made against the Baltches, such as falsely claiming citizenship, etc.

My memorandum also pointed out that in addition to the various legal problems involved another possible obstacle would be reluctance on the part of the State Department and the Administration to take prosecutive action against Soviet personnel at that time. The Director noted "This is very real."

My memorandum recommended and it was approved that this entire matter be discussed with the Department concerning the feasibility of prosecuting the Baltches and Egorov.

DISCUSSIONS WITH THE DEPARTMENT:

On 6/27/63 this matter was discussed with Assistant Attorney General Yeagley and his assistants. It was pointed out that the involvement of the Egorovs [REDACTED] presented no extra-legal problems but that the Baltch case could raise various legal difficulties in view of the techniques used. We advised the Department attorneys that if it appeared our sources and techniques were jeopardized, it would appear

Memorandum W. A. Branigan to W. Sullivan
Re: ~~██████████~~ CODE WORD

advisable to drop the espionage charges against the subjects and proceed against them on lesser charges. Yeagley felt there was a good possibility of proceeding against the Egorovs and Baltches on the espionage conspiracy charges and he preferred to proceed on these charges rather than on lesser offenses. He said he would discuss this matter with the Attorney General.

On 7/1/63 Yeagley advised it was the Attorney General's opinion we could not permit the Baltches to leave the country and we should proceed with the espionage conspiracy prosecution. Thereafter, the Baltches and the Egorovs were arrested 7/2/63 and indicted 7/15/63. On 10/11/63 the Egorovs were allowed to return to the Soviet Union by the State Department, in exchange for two Americans held by the Soviets and the charges against them were dismissed. We, of course, were not even consulted on this matter.

The release of the Egorovs had unquestionably weakened this prosecution. Both the Department attorneys and United States Attorney Hoey had expressed this opinion at the time. Hoey went so far as to state at a conference with Bureau personnel in Washington on 10/29/63 that 75% of his case disappeared when the Egorovs left.

My memorandum of 12/17/63 raised questions as to the wisdom of proceeding with this prosecution and it was recommended and approved by the Director that we again discuss this case with Yeagley concerning the desirability of dropping the espionage charges against the Baltches in view of the techniques involved and proceeding on a lesser charge.

On 1/16/64 a conference was held with Yeagley and his assistants and we again discussed the various points which could involve revelation of our confidential and tainted techniques. One of the overt acts alleged in the indictment cited the filling of the Baltch drop by the Egorovs 6/15/63 and the clearing of this drop by the male Baltch subject the same day. It was pointed out that if the defense explored how the FBI knew the location of this drop and how our Agents happened to be in the drop area on that day, we could not answer without revealing the confidential and tainted sources involved. (The location of the drop was made known to us through a mail interception of a Baltch communication through the cooperation of postal authorities and the development of a secret ink message contained in the communication.)

It was the consensus of Yeagley and his aides that a good possibility existed that the defense might not raise these points and that even if raised, the court might not allow the defense to explore these points as irrelevant. However, if the court allowed the defense to explore these points, it was their consensus that the Government would have to withdraw from the case. In view of the possibility of these problems arising in this prosecution, Yeagley was asked concerning the desirability of dropping the espionage charges and proceeding on lesser charge, such as falsely claiming citizenship. It was the opinion of Yeagley and his aides that the Government should go ahead with the espionage prosecution because there was the possibility it could be successful; further, in view of the stiff penalty involved, the Baltches might attempt to make a deal. Yeagley and his assistants felt that dropping the espionage charges and proceeding on a lesser charge would show a sign of weakness and that the Government would look much better if it was necessary to drop the case during the trial, thus making it appear it was forced to dismiss charges against two Soviet spies on legal technicalities. If this occurred, the Government would then attempt to proceed on lesser grounds.

OBSERVATIONS:

As it can be seen from the foregoing, the Department was made fully aware of the problems involved in any espionage prosecution of the Baltches from the outset of our discussions with it and of the possibility it might be forced to drop these charges during the trial of this case and the Department decided to take its chances.
